Independently spearheaded the website's redesign to achieve a modern, professional look, employing HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. My design approach was closely aligned with the site owner's goals, enhancing branding and improving device functionality to offer a seamless user experience. Partnered with a developer for a smooth launch, quickly adapting to new tools and ensuring project success. Continually maintaining and refining the site as needed.

I'm currently collaborating with another UX Designer to bring a crop protection sales representative's vision to fruition. Together, we're creating a trustworthy source of quality products and knowledge for farmers.
